Copies of the Gospel of St. John, just published, by the society, were distributed to the congregation. It is a neat little pocket volume which sells for the insignificant sum of one cent.

A collection was taken, the proceeds to be used in distributing the Bible in Richmond. Rev. Mr. Goodwin, in a short talk, stated that it was the purpose of the board to make a thorough canvass of Richmond and supply every person who is without one with a copy of the Holy Scripture. He said the society had learned that there are very many reople in scriptore. #### OCMMITTEE TAKES A BACKWARD STEP Returns Bodily to the Old Ward System of Distributing Street Funds.

Some surprise is being manifested at the action of the Street Committee about two weeks ago, in rescinding the resolution modifying to some extent the old ward system of distributing the funds set aside annually for street improvement, and there are feelings of regret upon the subject as well. Who the funds for the current year when the funds well.

When the funds for the current year were about to be distributed, Messus.
John B. Minor and W. W. Morton pressed a resolution changing the policy of the committee, so as to expend the money where, in the judgment of the committee and the city engineer, it should appear to be most needed, but this was opposed by Messus. Pollock, (Mills and others.

Finally a substitute offered by Mr. Pollock was adopted, which provided that the various ward delegations, after agreeing upon work to be done should submit lists some time prior to the meeting, at which it was to be ordered.

This was but a slight safeguard in the matter and the barest innovation upon the old method and still even this was on motion of Mr. Mills, rescinded at a recent meeting. This action of the body rehabilitates the old method in to to, and unless changed before the 1906 appropriation comes in the same aerimonious discussion, marking similar occasions in the past, are anticipated by those who have endeavored to alter the polity of the committee.

Unique Service at Union Station. Adult Scholars in Bible Study Rally.

Many of Richmond's pastors referred to the death of General Fitzhugh Lee in their sermons Sunday, and not a few reaved family in their prayers.

Sunday afternoon there was held to most interesting service at the Union Sta tion Methodist Church, which was rather novel. It was a meeting arranged by way Y. M. C. A., and was denominated 'A Big Bible Study Rally of Men's Sun-"A Big Bible Study Rally of Men's Sunday School Classes." The body of the church was reserved for members of men's Bible classes in the various Sunday schools, and every seat and everyinch of standing room was occupied by them. About five hundred adult Sunday school scholars were in attendance. Four large classes attended in a body, two from Venable Street Baptist Church, one from Christ Episcopal Church, and one from Union Station Methodist Church. Five-minute talks on "How I Built Up My Class" were made by the teachers of these four classes.

The address of the day was by Rev. Dr. W. J. Young, of the Centenary Methodist Church, who made an able discourse.

Memphis Follows Nashville in a Great Commercial Stride.

MAY CHEER RICHMOND ON

The Matter of Local Expansion Comes Up Here Next Wednesday Night.

The annexation fever is sweeping over many Southern cities, and if the present pace keeps up and Richmond should take no forward step in the matter, indications are that she will be far behind in the race when the next census is taken Nashville, Tenn., has just taken vigorous action, which puts her far beyond the 100,000 mark, and just beside the Virginia seas. Norfolk is preparing to stretch fort her borders in an effort to become the her borders in an effort to become the greatest municipality in this State.

And now it is Memphis, that already wonderful metropolis lying beside the waters of the Mississippi, where the smoke of industry and the white sails of commerce tell the story of her prosperity in no uncertain way.

Memphis, with her splendid railway and steamship facilities, and with all her great wealth and industry, has yet been backward in the matter of furnishing smple space for homes and manufacturing sites.

Has Great Ambition.

Has Great Ambition. But either on account of the splendid strides recently made by Nashville, or for some other reason, she has shaken off the dust and stretched forth her borders so as to furnish ample homes and manufacturing sites to all who come within her fold

Memphis has aspirations to be the third city in population in the country, and is predicted that she has well grounde hopes if she shall keep up her present gait.

Memphis has grown from 33,822 inhabitants in 1880, to 102,320 in 1900, and the city directory and school census now shows a population of 162,090. She now ranks third among the Southern cities, according to the census of 1900.

A Resultiful Scheme. A Beautiful Scheme.

A Beautiful Scheme.

The figures are as follows: New Orleans, 287,101; Louisville, 204,371; Memphis, 103,290. The people of Memphis are greatly interested in the question of expansion, and they are expressing the boilef that, basing their calculations upon her wonderful growth of the past thirty years, combined with her splendid natural advantages and luishness facilities, she will yet take the high place in the rank of cities, to which she aspires.

The city of Memphis has not only expanded, but it is said that her new lines make her one of the prettiost cities in the United States from a standpoint of engineering.
